

SALVIA

'SANTA BARBARA'

LOW MAINTENANCE

Salvia 'Santa Barbara' is a dwarf form of the common Mexican Sage. It is widely known for its tough garden performance making it an exceptional selection for use in both domestic and commercial landscapes. Showy long stems of velvety purple flowers crown the silvery green foliage over summer through autumn. Compact habit and drought resistance make this Salvia a great addition to any garden.

FEATURES

- Outstanding dwarf form of the popular Mexican Sage
- Long stems of velvety purple flowers crown the silvery green foliage over summer through autumn
- Ideal for low maintenance gardening

USES

- Mass plant in drifts for stunning, low maintenance displays
- Water wise garden designs
- Large containers
- Mixed borders

CARE

Low water requirements once established. Requires only occasional deep watering during extended periods of heat. Choose a site in full sun in most soil types with good drainage. During early spring cut back old foliage stems once new growth begins to appear at the crown. Feed at this time with an application of slow release fertiliser for best results.
